

A Testament To Discipline, Perseverance, and Purpose

Dr. Roshane Stewart is a distinguished programs director in New York City whose life's work has been marked by unwavering service, compassion, and visionary leadership. In his professional capacity, Dr. Stewart has devoted himself to at-risk men, serving as Program Director and supervising a shelter where dignity, structure, and hope are restored to those navigating some of life's most difficult circumstances. His work goes far beyond administration; it is deeply relational, transformative, and rooted in a genuine commitment to human upliftment.

In addition to his professional achievements, Dr. Stewart is an ordained Apostle in the Revival Faith. Through this sacred calling, he has used his spiritual gifts and leadership to spread the Gospel across numerous countries, touching lives on a global scale. His ministry reflects a holistic approach, one that nurtures not only spiritual growth but also addresses the practical needs of the individual. Through extensive philanthropic efforts, he has helped feed the physical man, supported vulnerable communities, and provided financial assistance to young people pursuing educational and ministerial development.

Dr. Stewart is widely respected as a mentor and role model, both within his denomination and in his personal life. He consistently places people above himself, investing time, wisdom, and resources into the next generation. His brilliance is evident not only in theology but also in academia, where he has earned multiple accolades, an extraordinary achievement given his humble beginnings in Jamaica. His life stands as a testament to discipline, perseverance, and purpose.

A true visionary leader, Dr. Stewart's passion and commitment continue to propel him toward greater impact and higher heights. His personal journey has not been without challenges; he has overcome significant illness and adversity. Through faith, resilience, and inner strength, he has demonstrated that healing is possible, not only of the body but also of the mind, unlocking human potential at its fullest capacity.

An author, leader, servant, and trailblazer, Dr. Roshane Stewart exemplifies what it means to live a life of purpose. His legacy is one of faith in action, excellence in leadership, and unwavering dedication to the betterment of others.
