

Passion For Philanthropy and Professional Growth

I had the privilege of supervising Dr. Rushayne Stewart during his tenure as Program Director overseeing a large New York City men's shelter. In a demanding environment that required strategic leadership, operational excellence, and compassion, Dr. Stewart distinguished himself with consistency, sound judgment, and integrity.

He brought a rare combination of intellectual depth, selflessness, and innovation to his work. His leadership was purposeful and impact-driven. He demonstrated a strong ability to develop people, strengthen systems, and navigate complex challenges while remaining deeply committed to service and outcomes.

Dr. Stewart's passion for philanthropy and professional growth is evident in both his leadership style and his results. He possesses the capacity to think strategically while remaining grounded in the human impact of the work. That balance is not common, and it is one of his defining strengths.

He is a principled leader with vision, discipline, and heart. Any organization or initiative committed to meaningful impact and sustainable growth would benefit from his leadership.

Shauna-kaye Brown,

Founder & CEO, Transform Nations Now LLC

Keynote Speaker | Attorney | Leadership & Career Transition Coach